

SEXUAL VIOLENCE RESEARCH INITIATIVE

6 SEPTEMBER 2018

SVRI MEMBER'S REQUEST

The University College London is seeking survey data on sexual harassment for secondary data analyses across countries. Specifically, they are seeking surveys that include information concerning the relationship between the victim and the offender including their authority/power positions in workplaces, schools or care systems. In addition, they are interested in information concerning the incident(s) and consequences of harassment. Please email: Ana Guinote, a.guinote@ucl.ac.uk, University College London.

JOURNAL ARTICLES

Multilevel influences on men's partner violence justification, control over family decisions, and partner violence perpetration in Bangladesh. Yount K.M, Roof K.A, Naved R.T. Psychol. Violence. 8\(3\), 367-378, 2018: In this study, authors use feminist theories of dominant masculinity norms and gendered social learning in childhood to explain young married men's violent attitudes and behaviours.
