First programme in Sub Saharan Africa demonstrating population level reduction on IPV in an RCT
Time for a Change!

• Ethical responsibility to put out the best approach possible, particularly given the steady uptake of SASA!
• Know parts weren’t working/were weak
• Context and environment has changed
• New evidence from other prevention programmes
• So many lessons learned from partners – want to be responsive and keep growing, learning, innovating
• Plus, a team that wouldn’t take no for an answer!
Overall Aim

To streamline and strengthen the SASA! Activist Kit based on 10 years of experience, evidence & learning.
Step 1: The Learning Process
Process

- 9 month journey
- Online survey with over 50 respondents
- 8 IDIs (1-2 hours each) with key partners implementing and/or providing TA for SASA!
- LM’s notes over years of SASA! implementation
- 3 review seminars with over 65 colleagues
  - Raising Voices and CEDOVIP staff
  - SASA! partners
  - Global friends/experts
- All data reviewed and analysed, and summarized in key documents, extensive discussions with staff and revision team
Step 2: The Findings

Much SASA!-love, strong attachment, many passionate opinions, some resistance to change.
Key Learning

Must Stay: IPV, four essential elements, power, getting personal, art & posters, strong training component

Can Go: Outdated HIV content, hard-to-use activities (Soap Opera, Film, Picture Codes, etc)

Please Add: Explicit mention of feminism, how to engage couples, how to support to activists and staff, how to engage police/health care workers & outer ring of ecological model, stronger support & action phases, SASA! transition guidance, more skill building, more emphasis on basic response skills/referrals, practical guidance on program design
Key Dilemmas

• What about girls/transactional sex/VAC?
• SASA! sometimes just becomes Local Activism – how can we avoid this and be truly holistic?
• Size/layout/design – 4 folders, pieces get lost
• Do we substantially reduce it making it more aligned for traditional scale?
• How to provide more implementation guidance for staff
Our Mantras
Can’t make everyone happy
SASA! can’t be everything to everyone
Compromises need to be made
SASA! users still need to think, adapt, contextualize We’re only human!
Step 3: The Revision (~14 months)
Areas of Change

i. Conceptual

ii. Strategic

iii. Practical
Conceptual Decisions

• A focus on IPV
• New focus on sexual decision-making
• Know - Feel - Do Outcomes
Strategic Decisions

- Three Strategies
- Stronger Phases
- New Activities
Practical Decisions

Set Up Guide

More self- and collective care

Support to Staff, Activists, Leaders, Allies

Easier to use activities

Stronger training sessions focused on skill building

New name, new design
Step 4: Reflections & Next Steps
Reflections

• Requires risk taking – feels high stakes
• Made hard decisions that go against the mainstream
• Innovation can’t be rushed, need head space for creativity, independence
• Piloting and iteration stronger yet more time consuming because level of skill is higher among partners
• Change brings anxiety, partners need extra support
• What activists want and need differs from funder and INGO demands
Launch in Kampala in February
