Sexual Violence Research Initiative

With over 6600 members the Sexual Violence Research Initiative (SVRI) is the largest global network for advancing research on violence against women (VAW), violence against children (VAC) and other forms of violence driven by gender inequality. Our work clusters around four pillars: Building evidence; strengthening capacity; promoting partnerships; and, influencing change to ensure policy and programmes are evidence informed, sustainable at scale and rooted in strategic partnerships that will drive action at local levels. All work undertaken and supported by SVRI strives to be feminist-centred, rights-based, innovative, collaborative, equitable and held to the highest ethical standards.

Welcome to SVRI Forum 2019

On behalf of the SVRI Forum Organising Committee, Board and Leadership Council, it is our great pleasure to welcome you to SVRI Forum 2019.

This year, 2019, is a very special year for us. After wide consultation and lengthy discussions, SVRI has graduated from a project of the South African Medical Research Council which has been our home since 2013, to a newly formed non-government organisation. It is also our 10th year anniversary of the SVRI Forum, with our first Forum being held in Johannesburg in 2009, and SVRI Forum 2019 being our 6th global conference.

SVRI is honoured and grateful for our members, who through research, teaching, practice and funding have contributed to building and advancing the field. We are proud of our members efforts and work to change the lives of women and children around the globe. We see SVRI Forum 2019 as a celebration of our achievements as well as a space to incubate new ideas, create new networks, build on existing ones and to jointly explore current and future research directions.

The SVRI Forum 2019 programme is designed to foster discussions and debates around Forum themes and key discussions underway in the field. Use this unique event as an opportunity to strengthen existing collaborations and to create new ones both within and across disciplines to advance the research agenda and strengthen how we respond and prevent violence. As with previous Forums, there is time in the schedule for this and for much more. SVRI Forum offers up a variety of networking events, self-care and well-being activities, learning opportunities and of course a programme showcasing what is new in the field.

Convening SVRI Forum is no small task. Many people have contributed time, resources and ideas on how to create an event we can all be proud of. Thank you to all our sponsors, partners, workshop facilitators, session chairs, presenters, delegates and guest speakers. This event would not be possible without you.

Enjoy the Forum, enjoy Cape Town, and enjoy your time with each other and with all of us.

Navigating the Forum

SVRI Forum Staff

SVRI Forum staff are here to help – please feel free to approach colleagues wearing STAFF nametags.

Translation

Translation in English, Spanish and French is available in Exhibition Hall 10.

Presenters Preview Room

All presentations must be uploaded at least 24 hours prior to your presentation in the Presenters Preview Room.

Well-Being Wall

Please share how you stay well and healthy whilst doing this work on SVRI's Well-Being Wall in the Exhibition Hall.

Research Wall

Share your ideas on what you think the next big research questions are for GBV in humanitarian settings on the Research Wall, kindly made possible by United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs.

SVRI Forum App

Keep up to date- use the SVRI Forum app to:

- See full conference programme and schedule
- Create your own personalised schedule
- Connect with other participants
- Find sessions, activities and other participants based on interest tags
- Evaluate the Forum and presentations via app evaluation forms

SVRI Forum App is powered by Crowd Compass Attendee Hub.

Download the Crowd Compass Attendee Hub App from Google Play or iTunes stores.

Login to Crowd Compass Attendee Hub using the same email address you used to register for SVRI Forum 2019.

The Brave Room

The SVRI values the well-being of our delegates and recognises the emotional impact of listening and talking through difficult topics. This year, the Forum will offer a space for delegates who may need emotional support after engaging with presentations or through the process of presenting. This room also serves as a safe space to process any research presented at the Forum. Experienced counsellors from the Rape Crisis Cape Town Trust will be available to facilitate this process. It is open to anyone attending the conference, as well as translators, support staff, and conference presenters.

Should you find the event overwhelming please reach out to a staff member and they will guide you to a counsellor. You can contact the counsellors via the conference helpdesk. Or just drop by the Brave Room for some time to breathe!

Making Presentations Accessible to All

Some tips for presenters:

- Simplify your work and limit the use of jargon
- Include visuals in your work but avoid traumatic images which could lead to secondary trauma
- Speak clearly – not too fast or too slow- for everyone to keep up

We would also like to request that seats in front near the stage or podium be offered to delegates with disabilities where it will be easier for them and interpreters to follow the flow of sessions.

Pronoun Stickers

"The old languages - at least the ones I know - don't have gender. They don't have gendered pronouns. There's no "he" and "she." A human being is a human being." Gloria Steinem

As a part of the SVRI's commitment to diversity and inclusion, pronoun stickers for your name badge are available at the registration desk. Please use these stickers. Let us all ensure SVRI Forum conference remains a friendly and safe environment for all.

Safety

Nothing is more important to us than your safety and security. South Africa has a reputation of insecurity and being unsafe. Please take care, be vigilant and be cautious. When moving outside of your hotel and the conference centre, let others know your whereabouts and travel in a group whenever possible.

Art @ SVRI Forum 2019

- #MeToo Photo Exhibition: At the start of 2018 Sarah Isaacs, a freelance portrait and documentary photographer, invited women on social media to share their experiences of abuse, sexual assault and harassment with her, and if they were ready, with the public. She hoped to turn the violation of her own childhood into something good, something that might encourage others to speak up and to let go of the shame that is never the victims to carry. This exhibition pays tribute the eleven exceptional women who stepped forward, who spoke and listened, who overcame fear and shame and allowed themselves to be seen.
- Clan-destine Art and Photo Exhibition: Clan-destine – the lived realities of African LGBTIQ+ is an exhibition of art and photography hosted by Gateway Health Institute that tells the stories of African LGBTIQ+. The exhibition aims to create awareness, not only of the hardships and lack of access to justice faced by African LGBTIQ+, but also of love and defiant sexiness in the face of adversity.

Participant Driven Events

Enjoy the multitude of participant driven events on at the Forum. See programme for more details.

Guest Speakers

Everyone at SVRI Forum are rock stars to us. The following people, however, have joined the Forum or provided us with a video message to help us open the event.

Gro Harlem Brundtland,
former Prime Minister of Norway, member of The Elders (Video message)

Gro Harlem Brundtland, a medical doctor, was Norway's first woman Prime Minister, serving a total of ten years as head of government between 1981 and 1996. She chaired the World Commission on Environment and Development – known as the Brundtland Commission – which articulated the principle of sustainable development for the first time at a global level. She was Director-General of the World Health Organization from 1998 to 2003, UN Special Envoy for Climate Change from 2007 to 2010 and, from 2011 to 2012, was a member of the United Nations Secretary-General's Global Sustainability Panel. Gro Harlem Brundtland is a member of The Elders, an independent group of global leaders founded by Nelson Mandela in 2007, who work together for peace, justice and human rights.

Josina Z. Machel,
MSc

Mozambican gender equality activist Josina Z. Machel has spent the last 20 years defending of human rights and advocating against VAW. Following a horrific domestic violence experience that left Machel blind in one eye, she launched Kuhluka Movement. Kuhluka Movement is a non-profit initiative that empowers women survivors of gender-based and domestic abuse to find their voice and their feet to walk away from abusive relationships. Together, Kuhluka Movement and Machel are working to achieve a world where GBV does not exist. The Her-Life project was also co-founded by Machel, a project that seeks to provide services and support for women in emergency situations. Machel received her MSc in Sociology (Gender) from the London School of Economics and Political Science.

Hibaaq Osman

Hibaaq Osman is the founder of Karama, a movement to end violence against women, and deliver sustainable, inclusive peace and democracy in Africa and the Middle East. Hibaaq has made it her mission to elevate the voices of women, raising their profiles and developing their skills as peacemakers and leaders. Karama is the culmination of a career that has included reconciliation and peacebuilding in her homeland of Somalia, campaigning for justice and recognition for Korea's 'comfort women', and supporting grassroots women activists to build constituencies and secure their rights in the wake of the Arab revolutions. Named one of the world's 500 Most Influential Muslims, Hibaaq has served on UN Women's Civil Society Advisory Group and the board of Donor Direct Action. She is a senior fellow at the James MacGregor Burns Academy of Leadership, University of Cambridge.

Malebogo "Max" Molefhe

Malebogo is a Gender Based Violence and Disability Rights Activist, a public speaker, and a former Botswanan National basketball player. In 2009, Malebogo was shot eight times in an act of intimate partner violence that left her confined to a wheelchair. This experience opened her eyes to the vulnerabilities of women and girls with disabilities who are at an even greater risk of violence. She now uses her life-altering traumatic experience to motivate, empower, educate, inspire, and raise awareness nationally and internationally on the issue of domestic abuse, gender-based violence and its intersection with disability. Malebogo knows that her story and knowledge can help other women and girls who are facing abuse and disadvantages. She believes that her words are an important tool in the fight against gender-based violence affecting girls and women in all their diversities in many African societies. Malebogo also advocates for the advancement of women in sports, with a focus on women with disabilities and encourages their active participation. Currently she is the ALIGHT Project Leader in the ALIGHT Project which is focusing on increasing participation of women and girls with disabilities in programs addressing violence in Botswana. In 2017 Malebogo was granted the International Women of Courage award by the United States' State Department.

Glenda Gray,
MBBCh, FCPaeds(SA)

An NRF A-rated scientist, CEO and President of the South African Medical Research Council (SAMRC), Professor Glenda Gray is a qualified pediatrician and co-founder of the internationally recognised Perinatal HIV Research Unit in Soweto, South Africa. Prior to her appointment at the SAMRC, she was the Executive Director of the Perinatal HIV Research Unit, an affiliate of Wits University. Glenda's global profile includes a role as Co-PI of the HIV Vaccine Trials Network (HVTN), a transnational collaboration for the development of HIV/AIDS prevention vaccines. She is also Director of International Programmes for HVTN and Chairperson of the Board of the Global Alliance for Chronic Diseases, and a member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academies, USA. She received South Africa's highest honour- the Order of Mapungubwe - for her pioneering research in PMTCT. Other prestigious accolades include the Nelson Mandela Health and Human Rights Award for her significant contributions in the field of mother-to-child transmission of HIV. Selected as one of Time's 100 Most Influential People in the World, Glenda is a recognised leader in her field. Her qualifications include an MBBCh, FCPaeds (SA), DSc (honoris causa SFU), DSc (honoris causa SUN), LL.D (Rhodes).

Ofakilevuka ('Ofa)
Guttenbeil-Likiliki

'Ofa Guttenbeil-Likiliki is a women's rights activist and filmmaker. She is the Director of Tonga's Women & Children Crisis Center (WCCC), which she helped establish in 2009, awarded the Pacific Community (SPC) Human Rights Award in 2010. 'Ofa has been nominated twice (2012,2013) for the US Secretary of State's International Women of Courage Award for her activism and advocacy for women and children's rights in Tonga. 'Ofa is a seasoned trainer in Gender, Human Rights and Ending Violence Against Women (EVAW) in the Pacific. She is also a trained Adaptive Leadership Trainer and Facilitator focusing on women's leadership and mentoring. 'Ofa is also an emerging awardwinning filmmaker with her most recent feature film VAI, a collaboration with eight other Pacific Island female Writer/Directors being an official selection for the Berlinale Film Festival 2019 and taking out Best International Feature Film Narrative at the Roxbury Film Awards 2019. She holds degrees in Film, TV, Media and Law.

Lisa Witter
MBBCh, FCPaeds(SA)

Lisa Witter is the co-founder and Executive Chair of Apolitical- a global peer-to-peer learning platform used by public servants in 170 countries- named one of Fast Company's 'Most Innovative Companies in the World' in 2018. She's an award-winning executive, entrepreneur, author and public speaker. For more than 25 years she's been working at the intersection of business, policy, government and behavioral science. She is a World Economic Forum Young Global Leader and served three terms on the Forum's council on Behaviour and now co-chairs the Agile Governance Global Future Council. She's sat on numerous boards including a publicly traded company and one for the U.S'. National Academy of Science and Engineering with an expertise in violence prevention. Social programme

Monday 21 October

18:00 – 21:00 Opening and welcome | Exhibition hall 10
The SVRI Forum 2019 welcome reception serves as the official opening of the conference and offers a semi-professional, semi-social networking space for all delegates.

Tuesday 22 October

18:00 – 18:50 Speed networking event | Exhibition hall 9
Facilitator: James Lang, SVRI Leadership Council
A first at the SVRI Forum 2019, this event matches like-minded individuals in discussing their topics of interest and building lasting friendships and professional relationships.

Wednesday 23 October

07:30 – 08:30 Sharing our stories breakfast | Exhibition hall 9
Facilitator: James Lang, SVRI Leadership Council
This networking event offers delegates the opportunity to meet leading activists and researchers who will discuss their professional trajectories, their motivations for continuing in this field and share advice and stories.

19:00 Gala Dinner | Gold Restaurant
The SVRI Forum's Gala Dinner is without doubt our most popular social and networking event at the conference. Join us at Gold Restaurant to network freely and informally over a delicious meal and awesome, local entertainment. Buses will start leaving from CTICC at 18:30 to take you to the venue.
