SVRI World Bank Group Development Marketplace 16 Days 2017 Blog Series

From 25 November 2017 to 10 December 2017 is the 16 Days of Activism Against Gender Based Violence - a global campaign to end violence against women and girls.

As part of this global campaign, the SVRI will feature blogs written by SVRI World Bank Group Development Marketplace for Innovations to Prevent Gender-Based Violence award winners. Through this award, the SVRI and the World Bank Group have disbursed over US$31 million to advance evidence-based interventions in GBV prevention and response in low- and middle-income countries.

Read first three blogs:

Participatory action research: Making ethics work for violence prevention projects in small, rural communities

Let their voices be heard: Qualitative research approaches among Syrian refugees in Greece

Gender-based violence, safety promotion and risk reduction for female sex workers in Thailand: Building the evidence for a marginalised population

Learn more about the SVRI Grant and the SVRI and World Bank Development Marketplace Awards

Sexual violence is a global issue that requires coordinated evidence-based responses

The Sexual Violence Research Initiative is hosted by the Medical Research Council, South Africa. The SVRI aims to increase awareness and promote research on sexual violence and its linkages to other forms of violence to influence policy and practice, particularly in low- and middle-income countries. To learn more about the SVRI visit our website www.svri.org or contact us at svri@mrc.ac.za

To unsubscribe from this list, email svri@mrc.ac.za

Engage with us: