Welcome!

Welcome to the Sexual Violence Research Initiative's online course, Power of Participation: An introduction to participatory approaches for childhood sexual violence research.

This self-directed, online course. The course aims to introduce you to participatory approaches in childhood sexual violence research while ensuring meaningful and ethical engagement of children and youth.

After taking this introductory course, we hope you will have gained:

1. knowledge of the foundations, ideas, and core concepts that informed the development of participatory approaches to research;
2. new perspectives on ways to incorporate children and youth into the planning and
